LATEST FROM ATLANTA.

Hood Makes Four Fresh Assaults on Sherman's Lines, which are all Easily Repulsed-Sherman Loses not more than Ore Hundred Men.

We hear that dispatches, received here up to 11 a. m. to day, state that Hood has made efforts to renew the assault upon Sherman's lines on four occasions since the heavy battle of Friday last. They were, however, feeble efforts, and were easily and promptly repelled with but an aggregate loss to Sherman of one hundred men.

Sherman is steadily closing in upon the doomed city. His cavalry are also actively engaged meantime in good work, and can hardly fail of severing the last remaining line of rebel communication with Atlanta.

FROM GRANT'S ARMY.

Engagement at Malvern Hill-The Rebels Whipped - We Capture Four or Five Hundred Prisoners and Four Cannon.

The steamer Dietator, from City Point, with the army mails and passengers, reached here about half-past ten o'clock this morning. We have news of an engagement at Malvern Hill, between our forces and four brigades of rebel troops.

On Tuesday afternoon a body of our troops, supported by Sheridan's cavalry, moved to the Point of Rocks, and crossed to the north side of the James river, but whether our forces met with any opposition here was not known at City Point, and the heavy cannon. ading heard from the direction of the Point of Rocks may have been for the purpose of covering the movements of our troops.

After crossing the river our forces started in the direction of Malvern Hill, and, on Wednesday, when about three miles from that place, they encountered four brigades of rebels. A sharp fight is reported to have taken place. which resulted in our capturing four cannon and between four and five hundred prisoners. Of the subsequent movements of our forces nothing was known at City Point, but when the Dictator came down the river some cannonading was heard in the direction of Malvern Hill. There is no truth in the reported naval engagement on the James between our gunboats and the rebel rams, resulting in the loss of a gunboat. The report doubtless originated from the heavy firing at the Point of Rocks.

BADLY DISCIPLINED.

From the complaints of farmers and others, we judge that very little discipline has been exercised over the troops of the Sixth Corps by their officers, in moving through the country lately in this vicinity. The depredations made upon private property by some of the soldiers of this corps is said to exceed even, in the way of wanton destruction and pillage, those of the Confederate raiding party, disgraceful as were the deeds of the latter. This conduct gives a bad name to our army.

is calculated to do serious damage to the Union cause, and a remedy should be applied promptly. The Sixth Corps enjoys a high reputation for gallantry, and we are sorry to see its good name tarnished by such acts as these by any portion of its members.

PROM THE UPPER POTOMAC.

Correspondence of the Baltimore American.] FREDERICK, July 28.—Frederick is as quiet to-day as a well ordered country town on a summer's day ought to be. There is plenty of talk of the rebels coming, and the usual a mount of contradictory stories as to their movements, numbers and intentions, but I cannot learn from any reliable source that any number of the enemy are on this side of the Potomac. Some few of Moseby's men have crossed at the Point of Rocks, but they were only in gangs of two and three, engaged in doing a little pri-vate stealing. Hagerstown is still held by our forces, and the stages are running without in-

Altogether the rumors of war have grown smaller since leaving Baltimore, and the probability of any serious collision has decreased as we approach the anticipated field of battle. Nevertheless there is no knowing what a few days may bring forth. The Potomac is but a day's march from here, and it is positively known that there is a large rebel force on the other side.

• We have nothing here but confused reports as to the fighting that preceded Gen. Orook's retreat upon Martinsburg. What little I can learn does not confirm the rumors that prevailed at Baltimore, which made the result exto have effected a very skillful retreat from before a force double his own in numbers, and in subsequent stands which he made to have punished his pursuers quite severely. Our loss is estimated at from one thousand to twelve hundred in killed, wounded and missing. Martineburg is undoubtedly in possession of the morning states that General Averill is there, wounded in the head. On the other hand, it is postively asserted that he is unhurt, and at the head of his division. Our eavairy suffered the most severely in the recent fights.

A letter received here from Hagerstown this morning states that General Averill is there,

Gen. Hunter has determined to adopt severe measures for the puishment of all those who in any way give aid or comfort to the rebels during their recent invasion, and the Provost Marchal, Maj. Yellott, has issued a notification of the purpose of the puishment of farnish evidence. calling upon loyal citizens to faraish evidence

The publication office of The Citizen, an ultra Copperhead paper, has been closed, and its proprietors, Messrs. Baughman & Norris, are under arrest. They will be sent South.

The rebel force on the other side of the Potomac are busily engaged in gathering the crops in the Shenandoat Valley, which are very heavy this year. Many believe that there will be no invasion until this is accomplished. The counties of Berkley and Jefferson have been levied on by General Early for two hundred thousand bushels of wheat, to be furnished ready threshed, with a notice that if not furnished promptly the entire crop will be confis-

Later from Hagerstown and Martinsburg. FREDERICK, Thursday-2 p. m.-The stage from Hagerstown has just arrived. I learn from the passengers that all is quiet on the Upper Potomac. The rebel scouts have disappeared from the line of the Potomac, and it is believed that they have fallen back beyond Martinsburg. Williamsport is occupied by our forces, and some of our sconts have crossed the river to Shepardstown. The belief is that the rebels are simply remaining in the Valley for the purpose of gathering the crops.

General Averill, I now learn with certainty, is uninjured and at the head of his cavalry. Colonel Mulligan was undoubtedly killed. The particulars I obtain of Sunday's battle, which took place between Bunker's Hill and Winchester, much lessen its importance. Some of our dismounted cavalry are reported to have behaved badly and occasioned much of the loss we suffered. In the actual fighting we inflicted quite as much loss as we sustained, but in the disaster of the retreat we lost a good many prisoners.

Messrs. Baughman and Norris, proprietors of the Frederick Citizen, were started South, via Harper's Ferry, this morning. The case of Mr. Norris excites some commisseration, as he leaves behind him a wife in very delicate health. The paper, however, has been thoroughly and unquestionably disloyal. No paper South would have been permitted to exhibit such malignity toward the rebel government for a day as the Citizen has manifested for this year past.

ARMY OF THE POTOMAC.

CITY POINT, July 26, 10 a.m.-Very heavy and rapid artillery firing has been going on in the direction of Gen. Foster's front on the north bank of the James river since daylight this morning, and at intervals volleys of musketry can be distinctly heard. For several days past the rebels appear to have been reinforcing heavily at that point, as if they suspected us of intending to mass forces there and advance suddenly on Richmond from that quarter. The heavy firing of this morning is probably an attack on Foster's position to anticipate the expected movement. No dispatches have arrived from there this morning up to the hour of the mail boat's departure; but no fears are entertained of Foster's ability to hold his position and repel any attack the rebels may make upon him.

All remains quiet on the Petersburg front and beyond the usual amount of picket firing in front of some of the corps, and the morning and evening interchange of a few shot and shell, there is nothing at all to chronicle. The troops are by no means entirely inactive; but the country must await "the fullness of time" for further revelations. The precise occupation and disposition of our forces is not at present legitimate matter for newspaper publication.

The weather for two weeks past has been remarkably cool and pleasant for the season, and some of the nights really chilly. Within this time several refreshing rains have fallen to lay the dust, revive the grass and drooping foliage, clear and purity the atmosphere, and to brace and invigorate the sick and well.

FROM JAMES RIVER Rumor of a Naval Engagement-Improvements at City Point.

[Correspondence of the Chronicle.] CITY POINT, VA., July 27 .- All last night and this morning (Wednesday) there has been heavy firing on the other side of the Appo-

There is a rumor in circulation here that one of the rebel rams had sunk one of our gunboats, and that the rams contemplate an excursion to this place. If they do they will meet with a warm reception. Two of our monitors have gone up the river, and if they meet the rebel rams, there will be a spirited contest. You will hear of some important movements in a short time. Grant is not idle.

Since the occupation of City Point by our forces there has been a vast improvement in almost everything connected with it. The landing for supplies for the army extends nearly half a mile, and is constantly crowded with stores and forage. Trains runs regularly from here to the front, and the army is well supplied with everything that could be de-

REPORTS FROM UP RIVER The Rebels Disappear from the Banks of the River between Harper's Ferry and Martinsburg-They Concentrate beyond Martinsburg, receive Reinforcements, and are said to be Moving Eastward.

A cavalryman arrived in town this morning from the neighborhood of Harper's Ferry, which place he left yesterday afternoon. He confirms the report that the rebels have disappeared from the banks of the Potomac between the Ferry and Martinsburg, but says that cavalry scouts who came in just before he left, reported that the rebels were in large force (said to number 40,000, including a reinforcement of 15,000 or 20,000 which they have received recently,) a short distance beyond Martinsburg, moving eastward.

LOCAL NEWS.

MEETING OF THE FRIENDS OF SMITH O'BRIEN.-Last evening, in pursuance to public notice, a meeting of the friends and admirers of the late Wm. Smith O'Brien was held in the Council Chamber (City Hall). The meeting was called to order by Mr. R. S. Davis, on whose motion Dr. Thos. Antisell was called to the chair. Mr. James Ryan was appointed secretary. Dr. Antisell, in taking the chair, said that other cities had held meetings to pay homage to the memory of one of Ireland's noblest sons, and that it behooved us in the capital of the nation to do the same. In the death of O'Brien Ireland had lost one of her purest sons; he took no advantage of public movements, he did not rise with the crowd, but he was eminently one of the people. He left a high and comfortable position and threw himself along with the people in opposition to his earlier opinions.

Dr. Antisell then alluded to the public services of O'Brien. When he entered into public service, in 1827, he was placed there for the express purpose of preventing liberalizing, and fortunate it was that he was not educated in Ireland, as when he returned he had no local prejudices. In 1829 he, with his colleague, obtained in part what they wanted—Uatholic emancipation—but one greater evil remained—the tenure of land. From 1172 to the time of William III, Ireland was the scene of con

The former owners were allowed to live on the land and cultivate it, but could not own it. This state of things continued until 1940, when the whole of Ireland was owned by 8,000 landlords—over 8,000,000 people. Dr. Autisell described the state of things existing at this time, and gave a history of the laws passed by Parliament to opprese the poor, and asked if it was wonderful that a revolt took place; and he gave at length a his-tory of O'Brien's services, and of his leaving

Which metion was carried, and the following were appointed. O. B. Cluskey, P. H. Donnegan, James Lackey, T. J. O'Connell, D. A. Brosnan; and after a short absence they returned and reported appropriate resolutions.

The resolutions express the sympathy of the Irish of this District with these of the old country who have austained so great a loss in the death of the illustrious champion of religious freedom, and declare that while the people of his immediate district have lost an untiring protecter and benefactor, the cause of humanity, liberty and self government throughout the world has lost an earnest and devoted advocate and champion.

Mr. Davis warmly seconded the resolutions, and spoint feelingly of the deceased patriot, urging that there be hereafter more unity of action among Irishmen in future. If the deceased could have secured unity of action, the great object of his life, the enfranchisement of Ireland, would have been accomplished. Col. Florence, Mr. D. J. Toohy, and T. J. O'Connell followed, each paying an appropriate tribute to the memory of the deceased. A vote of thanks to the Mayor and Board of Common Council was passed, as was also to the Chairman, (Dr. Antisell,) and the meeting

A HARD CROW D .- Luctuigut, as Roundsman Pierce was passing the corner of 2d street and Pennsylvania avenue, he found Hugh McMahon, the keeper of a restaurant, quarrelling with one Dacey, who is connected with the show above the restaurant, and ordered him to desist. McMahon complied for a short time, but soon renewed the quarrel, when Pierce arrested him. James Keatly, the barkeeper of the establishment, ran to the assistance of McM., and was about to rescue him, when Officers Wallingsford and Padget came to the assistance of Pierce, and, after a rough time, during which Keatly attempted to draw a knife, they were taken to the station. This morning Justice Ferguson fined McMahon $5.58 for disorderly conduct, and Keatly $20.58 for carrying a concealed weapon and $16 for disorderly conduct, and also held them to bail for resisting the officer.

A Cow Cass .- Yesterday afternoon, Mr. McCormick, who resides in Uniontown, was before Justice Cullon the charge of unlawfully retaining a cow belonging to officer Cline. It appears that a number of cows, among them Mr. Cline's, got into Mr. McCormick's cornfield and destroyed some of his crop, and all succeeded in getting out except Mr. C.'s. Mr. McCormick sent word to the owner that he had the cow, and Mr. C. went over to get the cow or milk her, but he was refused and ordered off the place. After a protracted hearing, (Mr. Day appearing for the complainant,) the justice gave judgment for plaintiff. The question as to damages will go into court.

PETTY LARGENIES .- Margaret Broderick was arrested yesterday by officer McColgan, on two charges of larceny. The cases were tried by Justice Giberson, and it appeared by the defendant's confession that she took a pair of ear-rings from Mary Ryan, and a fingerring and linen collar from Anne Digney. She declared that she did not intend to steal them, but only intended to use them at a distance, to which she was going. She was held to bail for court. Charles Bently was arrested by officer Frazier for the larceny of certain property, &c., from the restaurant of P. M. Dubant The case was tried before Justice Bates, who held Bently to bail for court.

DOG SLAUGHTER .- Yesterday, the officers of the Fourth Ward reported the total number of dogs killed during the day as thirty-two in that ward alone. Officer Crown reported that he had killed seventeen; McColgan, 3; Pendle, 3; Fuss, 3; Howard, 3; T. J. Frazier, 3. POLICE APPOINTMENT .- Yesterday the Board

AFFAIRS IN GEORGETOWN .- Left Behind .-This morning, the county police brought to the station-house five muskets, picked up in the vicinity of Tenallytown. From the appearance of the muskets, it is presumed that they were left behind by the "Johnnies" when they were running away from the 6th corps.

Inquest.—This morning, Coroner Woodward held an inquest in view of the body of a soldier, named William Leary, company A, 121st New York volunteers, who was shot by a guard at a house kept by a negro, named Griffin Burk, corner of Canal and Potomac streets. The guard had possession of the house, and had orders not to let any one pass out. Leary got out and attempted to escape, the guard called to him four times to halt, but he refused, and the guard fired. The ball and the buckehot struck him on the back, right side, and passed through, causing death instantly. One of the shot struck Mr. S. Fearson in the hand, and the ball struck a chair some distance away. The jury justified the guard and officers, returning a verdict that the shot was fired by the guard in the discharge of his duty. Francis H. Warner, the guard who fired the fatal shot, is an old soldier, highly esteemed by his officers, and was greatly distressed by the oc-
